General information about this website

This website (www.blueroominnovation.com) and all its contents are property of Denisa Gibovic (hereinafter the COMPANY).

The information on the COMPANY website is provided for the purpose of publicizing the activities and services. The COMPANY works to ensure that the information and services that appear on the COMPANY website have the necessary integrity and that they are accurate, up-to-date, accessible and usable. In this respect, users should take note of the last modified date indicated in each case.

This website and all of its contents, including the texts, images, sound recordings, databases, code and any other material, are the property of the COMPANY or third parties who have authorized their use by the institution. All of this material is subject to the current legislation on intellectual property. The respective owners reserve their right to take appropriate legal action to redress any harm or damage caused by any act that infringes upon their intellectual property rights over the contents.

The COMPANY reserves the right to modify and update its website at any time and without prior notice.

The COMPANY publishes the images of people who appear on the website in full recognition of their rights to their own image. The images are used exclusively for the purpose of creating graphic files or videos to report or publicize the COMPANY's activity. In no case shall they be used for other purposes or given to third parties without the necessary authorization.

The COMPANY has implemented the security measures needed to keep its website and servers free of malware. Secure access to the website (such as in the case of intranets) is provided through the HTTPS protocol.

The COMPANY website provides hyperlinks to the profiles in Facebook, Twitter, Youtube, etc., in order to advertise the COMPANY's presence in these social networks. Once users access these social networks, they are subject to the policies established by each service.

Any dispute involving the COMPANY website shall be conducted in the courts and tribunals of Barcelona, expressly waiving any other jurisdiction.

Personal data protection

The treatment of any personal data provided by users of the website is subject to the provisions of the regulations on personal data protection. However, the COMPANY website is not a publicly accessible source as stipulated by the regulations.

Form data and newsletters

The COMPANY website contains various forms that collect personal data to send newsletters and other activities. All of these forms have information clauses in adherence to the regulations on data protection. You can modify, update or delete all your data by sending an email to info@blueroominnovation.com.

When it is mandatory under the regulations on data protection, consent to use or transfer personal data will be requested from the individuals concerned. To this end, users should read and take into account each information clause.

In all cases, the COMPANY's use of personal data will be limited to what is adequate and relevant to meet the specified, explicit and lawful purposes for which the data have been obtained. The security of users' personal data is guaranteed by the application of technical and organizational security measures.

As stipulated by the regulations on data protection, minors are allowed to give their personal data only if they are 14 years of age or older. Minors who are under 14 years of age must obtain the consent of their parents or legal guardians. The COMPANY assumes no responsibility for the personal data given by minors under 14 years of age who have not received consent from their parents or legal guardians.

Connection data

Connection data are implicitly generated in the use of internet communication protocols. The data generated by browsing the COMPANY website will be used strictly for technical purposes and by staff who are bound by a duty of secrecy.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that were initially created to facilitate web browsing and have subsequently been applied in other areas as well. The COMPANY uses cookies only to enable visitors to browse the COMPANY website more smoothly and in a more personalized manner.
